UNIVERSITY OF TRENTO

Guide for international students

University of Trento

The University of Trento is a dynamic, middle-sized, research-oriented university, featuring high quality teaching and research facilities, located in one of the most gorgeous natural environment in the world, the Dolomites, UNESCO World Heritage since 2009.

The international positioning of the University of Trento is clearly outlined in international rankings: Trento has been confirmed among the very few Italian universities which have been ranked by QS World University and THE - Times Higher Education Rankings.

The University of Trento has signed agreements with universities from all over the world that grant students and PhD students the possibility to further enrich their academic career by spending a study or research period abroad.

The agreements relate to exchange programmes, double-degree and joint-degree programmes.

The ECTS system allows the reciprocal recognition of exams taken abroad.

Exchange Students in the Frame of International Mobility Programmes

Students interested in an exchange period at the University of Trento should be first selected by their home University, fulfilling the requirements of the specific international programme.

Exchange students with Italian proficiency can attend classes taught in Italian.

Furthermore, the University of Trento offers classes in foreign languages available at the following link: <http://web.unitn.it/en/node/14068/>

The admission to classes in English is not always guaranteed: specific academic and linguistic requirements may be foreseen both by the international programme and by the course itself.

The classes choice must be pre-approved by the home university and by the University of Trento by the use of the learning agreement, that the exchange student has to draft before the arrival.

For more detailed information please visit the web pages dedicated to the specific mobility programme <http://web.unitn.it/en/incoming>.

Exchange students application deadlines:

May 31st for applications for the first semester (Sept-Dec)

October 31st for applications for the second semester (Feb-Jun)

Students Enrolling in a Graduate Degree Course Offered in English

Degree seeking students in the frame of international mobility programmes (ex. Erasmus Mundus, Double Degree) should refer to the requirements of the specific mobility programme.

Students interested in attending a whole master's course at the University of Trento can choose among 18 different Graduate courses (Lauree Magistrali) completely taught in English in different areas (see the "Academic offer at UniTrento" in the previous pages).

Admission to the Graduate courses is selective: interested candidates must submit a complete online application package. Specific academic and language requirements apply to each graduate course.

Non-European students living abroad must pre-enrol at the Italian Diplomatic Representation of reference to be able to study in Italy.

Application deadlines: typically January-March, with an extended deadline for European students in June. Check the dedicated webpage of each course for detailed information, <http://international.unitn.it>

Pre-enrolment at the Italian Diplomatic Representations for non-European students living abroad: typically April-June.
