What we did

Ukraine

We have asked the University to take a position against the Russian invasion of Ukraine and to protect the students in mobility in Ukraine and Russia, with whom the University is in constant contact.

The scholarships and accommodations for the Ukrainian students who are currently in Trento have been extended so that they can remain here.

We would like to point out that you can contact the student associations to make yourself available as a volunteer for the collection of goods and necessities for Ukraine.

Extraordinary graduation session

Given the national extension of the 2020/21 academic year, we have managed to organize an extraordinary graduation session in all Departments, to allow those who are unable to graduate in March to still be able to graduate in that academic year: find the dates on your Department's website!

POS in the canteens

After many requests, POS payment has finally been introduced in all the canteens. The next goal is to create a digital wallet on the Opera4U app to manage all the transactions.

Sanitary pads

Our request for the provision of sanitary towels for emergencies in the toilets and/or in the porter's lounges of all Departments and libraries has been approved.

The next objective is to arrange vending machines.

CLA

We asked and obtained to make the Double Diploma equivalent to a B2 certificate, and also now you can have credit recognition for the British Institutes ESOL General English.

Students

From now on it will no longer be necessary to write an email when you want to book a classroom or a barbecue, because the Opera representatives have created a new united and automated form for booking spaces.

In addition, the SanbàPolis bar has reopened, for the moment with reduced opening hours.

Work in progress

Extra exam appeals

Thanks to the extra graduation session, we are working to also have an extra exam session, so that those who want to graduate in this extra roll call can take the last missing exams.

“Movida” in Piazza Dante

The announcement for the management of Piazza Dante has just been published, as a follow up to the project presented by the Students’ Council of the City to create a new “movida”. The aim is to give new life to Piazza Dante by making it the center of socializing and entertainment until late at night, and which will make it possible to solve the problems of nightlife in the center of Trento between students and citizens once and for all.

Students

The Opera representatives are working on the modification of the student residences regulations (for example visits, sanctions, etc.). The aim is to make those who live in the student residences feel part of a welcoming community that does not burden them with rules that are perceived as too rigid.

Recycling days will also be organized, where students will be able to collect the many objects that have been left behind in the student residences.

C3A - Enology

Some classes have been able to return to San Michele, but the quality of teaching, worthy of Europe's second best course in enology, is still not guaranteed. We are working with the University to bring the students' point of view into the negotiations for the new agreement with the FEM.

P.S. As you can see, the representation is active and working for you! If you have any doubts or problems you can contact your Department’s representatives or the Students’ Council, by email or on social media.
