

Attilio Marchi

Profile

Attilio Marchi is an engineer, internal auditor certification quality and a lecturer at the University of Trento.

He has been working for 20 years in a company in Trentino Alto Adige, before as information technology manager and as a quality assurance manager since 2004.

Attilio Marchi is responsible for company organization and training too.

Since 2010 he has been a lecturer of the university course "Quality Engineering".

His interests include the application of total quality management, and the role of creativity and innovation in the modern businesses.